M'KANE TO THE BAR.

THE GRAVESEND PACHA AND HIS LIEU-TENANTS ARRAIGNED.

UE FLATLY DENIES THE CHARGES OF MIS-CONDUCT ON AND BEFORE ELECTION DAY-AN ATTEMPT TO EXPLAIN THE OUTRAGES

John Y. McKane and five of his lieutenants appeared before Chief-Justice Barnard in Brooklyn yesterday morning to answer the charge of empt of court. E. M. Shepard, the special ecutor; A. E. Lamb and J. A. Wernberg, counsel to the Committee of Twenty-five, appeared for the prosecution. The defendants were represented by G. W. Roderick, James Troy and Isaac S. Catlin. Mr. Shepard opened case by a review of the outrages com mitted in Gravesend just before election. He read the affidavits of A. S. Bacon, E. M. Graut, Rev. Mr. Kent, H. S. Worthley and others went down to Gravesend to see that justice vas done. After reading these affidavits, the Midavits of McKane and fifteen or twenty of s supporters were read. These papers had refully kept from the public. They deny oint blank the most serious charges made by the prosecution.

In introducing the affidavits Mr. Troy said: "I appear for Mr. McKane only. My client congratulates himself on this opportunity to himself from the cloud of obloquy which has been stirred up about him by clever means ever since election. He has submitted to that without complaint, reserving his answer for the I don't wish to make technical objecuntil the affidavits in answer to these es have been heard. We have heard the istory of Election Day in Gravesend from a not impartial standpoint. I have nothing to the defendants here other than Mr. McKane and Your Honor will observe that there is only one point before the Court. The injuncprovided that the legally appointed watchers should not be interfered with in the performance of their duties. This is the point involved here, and not any habeas corpus proceedings, with which Mr. McKane had nothing to do, or any riot, if there was one, whether stirred up by turbulent strangers or otherwise.

WHAT M'KANE SAID.

The affidavit of John Y. McKane said in sub stance that as he is the Superintendent and hief of Police of Gravesend it was his duty to protect the rights of the citizens living there. He denied that there were only 8,419 people and only 1,600 voters in the town. ad lived there forty-eight years, and he believed the population to be nearly 15,000. He denied entering into a conspiracy or fraudulently putting the names of temporary residents on the oil lists, and declared that there was only a slight increase this year over the vote of last He expressed the greatest friendship signt increase this year over the vote of task year. He expressed the greatest friendship for William J. Gaynor, and said that he had ordered a copy of the poli lists to be made for Mr. Gaynor's personal use, but Mr. Gaynor, using profane language, had declared that he would make his own copies. The deponent decided that Mr. Gaynor wanted merely "to exploit himself in the newspapers."

McKane declared that when he heard that a force was going to Gravesend on Saturday night before election, to copy the lists, he ordered his police to hide behind the Town Hall until they knew what the strangers wanted. Hearing that the strangers were to "stand guard over the houses of the inspectors and take no bluffs," he had told them that they seemed to be in a "bad business." They had replied that they thought so, too, as they had been hired on street corners and in liquor stores. The deponent added that he had heard that Colonel Bacon would go to Gravesend on Election Day with 300 armed men, and believing this to be true, he had made his preparations accordingly. On the day of the election, he declared, Colonel Bacon and some other men had approached him with drawn revolvers, and tried to use their heavy canes.

On being taken to the police station, they heavy canes.

On being taken to the police station, they had said that they were trying to serve papers "of some sort on deponent." This was the first the deponent had heard of papers for him. He had supposed from the flourishing of canes that they intended to make an attack on him. Had he known that they were trying to serve papers on him he would not have resisted. Other parts of McKane's affidavit flatly contradicted all charges of misconduct on his part. ELECTION INSPECTORS PROPERLY APPOINTED.

NEW-ENGLAND TARIFF REFORMERS HAIL WITH JOY THE WILSON BILL.

Boston, Dec. 1.—Over 100 members attended the monthly dinner of the New-England Tariff Reform League at the United States Hotel this evening. Henry L. Pierce, the president, presided. Among Henry L. Pierce, the president, presided. Among those present were John E. Russell, George Frederick Williams. Edward Atkinson, Robert Treat Paine, Charles R. Codman, William Lloyd Garrison, Osborn Howes, jr.; Henry Faxon and E. H. Clement, Editor of "The Boston Transcript." In his opening address, President Pierce said that the ation to reform the tariff placed upon the ceratic party by the election of 1802 was just troduced as the speaker of the evening, Conman Michael D. Harter, of Ohio, who was essman Michael D. Harter, of Ohio, who was celved with great enthusiasm. Mr. Harter spoke r over an hour on the present situation. John Russell was the next speaker. He said that he is on the stump in 1856 and 1881 during the busies depression of those times, and he was seen to the Administration in power, and the seen that Senator Hoar's statement his recent speech, that the present nditions in the business world were Cleveland nditions, and his attributing of the same to the mocratic Administration were not only unpatric, but incendiary and worthy of the strongest ademnation.

RECEIVERS DEMAND AN ACCOUNTING.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 1.—C. H. Bosworth and E. Ellery Anderson, receivers of the Chicago, Sti Louis and Peoria Railway Company, have filed a petition in the United States Circui: Court asking that William S. Hook, president of the old Jacksonville Boutheastern line, be compelled to make an account of all property of the Chicago, St. Louis and Peoria Railroad Company in his possession, and be restrained from disposing of any such property. It is alleged that Hook took possession of 125 bonds of the company and fixed the price thereon at $51,000, and that he is indebted on the bonds in the sum of $11,000. It is also charged that he credited himself with buying bonds of the Ritch-leid, Carrollton and Western at $0 to the amount of Bilson, which he did not pay for at that rate. THE ROAD.

TWO TRAINMEN LOSE THEIR LIVES-THE COR PANY'S POSITION, NEVERTHELESS. GROWS STRONGER DAILY.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Philadelphia, Dec. 1.-The Lehigh strike situation has undergone no material change in the past forty-eight hours. The officials maintain that the usiness of the road is steadily returning to its ormal condition, while the strikers profess to be serenely confident that the system will never be in full and profitable operation until they return to the company's employ. All efforts to have the settled by arbitration have failed, and until one side or the other surrenders, the strikers will remain out of work and the officials will continue their efforts to run the road without the Voorhees is more than ever confident that before long the men will have to acknowledge that they been beaten, and the only fear to which revenge may lead some turbulent spirits to the destruction of the company's property and the mmission of other lawless acts. Grand Chief Conductor Clark said to-day that the situation is practically unchanged, but that the ranks of the men are being gradually increased by the ac quisition of hands employed to take the places of the strikers. He said he had received a report from Wilkesbarre announcing that ninety of the new men left their work yesterday and oined the strikers. Another report, he said, was to the effect that six trains made up ready to leave the Coxton yards yesterday were abandoned by their crews, who joined the ranks of the strikers. Mr. Voorhees denied, however, that the crews deserted six trains at Coxton.

This was a busy day in the treasurer's department of the Lehigh Valley, some $900,000 being paid out for the regular December interest and $302,000 for the redemption of bonds drawn for the sinking fund. The company also paid to-day a note for $25,000, being the only paper maturing be-

Some-ville, N. J., Dec. 1.—The situation along the Lehigh Valley Railroad is about the same as one week ago. But filled fragmener trains are being run with about half the usual force. Sheriff Dilts still has his two deputies on guard at the Port Reading tower. At Landsdown two big Lehigh Valley engines were burned out by green men, and had to be towed to Philipsburg. THE REICHSTAG VOTES, 173 TO 136, TO RE-VOKE THE DECREE OF EXPULSION.

DR. LIEBER'S EARNEST SPEECH-BERLIN DEEPLY

Berlin, Dec. 1.-In the Reichstag to-day Count Hompesch, member of the Centre or Catholic party, noved the revocation of the decree ordering the expulsion of Jesuits from Germany. Baron Manteuffel, Conservative; Herr Merbach, Reichspartel, and Dr. von Marquardsen, National Liberal, declared that the parties to which they belonged would oppose the revocation of the decree von Hollenffer, German Conservative, said that his group would abstain from voting on the notion. Herr Lotze, anti-Semite, declared that the members of that party were free to vote as they

The motion was put to vote and was carried, 173

Several notable speeches were made on the mo tion. Dr. Lieber, leader of the Clericals, spoke at great length. The Catholic Church in Germany, e said, needed the services of the Jesuits to enabl it to fulfil its divine mission. The assertion had been made that the Vatican followed a policy hostile to Germany's interests. This was false. Only a short time ago Cardinal Rampolla had declared the Vatican studiously avoided meddling with the political affairs of the Triple Alliance or its opponents. If the Vatican ever should display a policy friendly to the Franco-Russian alliance, German Catholics would not then interpret the doctrine of Papal infallibility in such a manner as to interfere with their duties toward the German Empire. Dr. Lieber's declaration that his party would not support the Pope in an active pro-French policy was received with loud cheers.

A great crowd waited in the rain outside Reichstag to learn the result of the vote on recent years excepting the days when the vote the Army was taken. The police were hardly able to clear a passage for the Deputies entering and leaving the building. The public galleries in the House were filled to the last bit of standing room. The Ministers listened to the debate without offering to speak for the Government. Chancellor von Caprivi was motionless and eagerly attentive from beginning to end of the speeches.

The Governor of Posen has informed Archbishop Stablewsky that the Polish language may be used again in the elementary schools after Easter. This concession to the Polish national feeling is part of the Emperor's policy of conciliation. It is regarded with great dissatisfaction by the Germans in East Prussia.

with great dissatisfaction by the Germans in East Prussia.

Brussels, Dec. 1.—The action of the German Reichstag in voting for the return of the Jesuits to the Empire has excited the Reenest interest among the Belgian Catholics. All the Clerkal journals have proclaimed the news far and wide in special evening editions. Flaring posters bearing the announcement of the vote have been distributed everywhere in the city.

Budapesth, Dec 1.—The clergy, under Cardinal Vaszary, Primate of Hungary, in accordance with the Pope's reply to the Bishop's note regarding the Civil Marriage and other bills, agreed yesterday to oppose the Civil Marriage measure.

Religious questions form the bulk of the news cabled from Germany and Austro-Hungary. In the latter country a new Kulturkampf is about to be opened, while in the German Empire the last vestiges of the Kulturkampf started by Bismarck against the Roman clergy are fast disappearing. The Catholic party has just won at Berlin two important victories. The exiled Jesuits will be recalled, thanks to a vote of the Reichstag, and the Catholic priests, who are the principal instructors schools. This is one more concession well calculated to capture for the general Imperial policy lated to capture for the polish representatives in the support of the Polish language, but only in private schools. The Poles had been immensely gratically state schools. The Poles had been immensely gratically state schools and the support of the Polish language, but only in private schools. The Polish language, but only in gratical state schools. The Polish languag schools. This is one more concession well calcu upon Prussian Poland by the operation of the Rulturkampf.

From that time the Polish members in the Reichstag voted in favor of the Government's bills, and it was by their aid and that of the members of the Catholic Centre party that the Army and Navy bill, so fiercely opposed by the other representatives, was finally passed. Some guarantees of goodwill and of the cessation of the Kulturkampf had previously been given to Dr. Windthorst and the other leaders of the Centre faction. Among other tokens of an entente, the German Government had refunded at last the spargelder, which amounted to $1,200,000 and represented the total of the State salaries which had been refused to the Catholic priests not sufficiently pilant before the State authorities during the period of the Kulturkampf. Soon after the essation of the latter a system of petitioning in favor of the recall of the Jesuits was instituted throughout Germany. In Bavaria, the petitioners wanted also recall of the Jesuits was instituted throughout Germany. In Bavaria, the petitioners wanted also the return of the Redemptorist Fathers, who had been expelled as being too intimately affiliated with the exiled Jesuits. Counter petitions were being signed also everywhere, but it seems that, thanks to the rather friendly neutrality of the Government on that question, the petitioners favoring the recall of the Jesuits have won the day in the Reichstag.

The Catholic party will be better disposed than ever to support the Imperial policy in Germany just at the moment when it will open war at Budapesth against the Austro-Humgarian Government. The question of the obligatory civil marriage, so often explained here, will open along the Danube another Kulturkampf, which may become still more bitter than was the German one, on account of the deeper Catholic tendencies of the Hungarian people.

VIEWS OF THE LONDON PRESS ON THE RELICIOS TAG'S ACTION REGARDING THE JESUITS.

London, Dec. 2.-The Berlin correspondent of "The fuse to indorse the motion for the repeal of the Anti-Jesuit law. Prussia, he says, is regarded as yesterday's vote in the Reichstag of its practical value.

"The Times" correspondent in Berlin says of the vote in the Reischstag: "The majority consisted of Clericals, Poles, Alsatlans, Socialists, most of the Radicals, two Conservatives, and one Anti-Semite; the minority, of National Liberats, Free Conservatives, the bulk of the Conservatives and a section of the Radicals. Many Conservatives did not vote. The circumstances are so changed now that neither the imperial nor the Prussian Government may be disposed to challenge the hostility of a powerful party (Centre) and a large section of the Nation."

Paris, Dec. 1 .- A recent issue of the "Petite Republique," of which M. Millerand, the well-known cialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, is chief editor, contained a violent attack on M. The article closed with the assertion that M. Etlenne was the right sort of man for cheap deals in the lowest line. Politics would go far, very far, if justice did not overtake M. Etlenne.

This style of attack naturally angered M. Etlenne, and the result was that M. Millerand was waited upon by the former's representatives. The cartel was accepted, and M. Millerand chose swords as the weapons to be used. To-day the combatants met and exchanged a few thrusts. M. BODY RUNNING SORES. Condition Terrible. Lite a Burden. Tried Cuticura. In Three Days Attends to Business. Cure Permanent.

In the spring of 1891 I took that dreadful skin disease, Ecroma, which turned into blood poison. I consulted the best known specialists in this city. They treated me for seven months, I unverted a particle of good from any of them. They had given it up as a hopeless cure. I was covered with sores from head to foot. I had running sores all over me, some of them as large as a box of your Cutteurs. It cost me hundreds of dollars with those so-called specialists. My condition was terrible, life was almost a burden to me. I cende not ent, drink or sleep, I was malle to walk and had given myself up as dead. I tried all medicines imaginable, until a friend who had got relief advised me to try Cutteurs Remours. I sent out and got them, and when I took the first dose of your Cutteurs Resolvent I felt a little better, with three boxes of your most valuable Cutteurs and one bottle of Cutteurs a Resolvent I have a new man. RUMORS OF A HOLY WAR IN MOROCCO. IT MAY SPREAD TO ALGERIA-A MALTREATER OF MOORISH PRISONERS AT MELILLA

TO BE SHOT. London, Dec. 1.-A dispatch to "The Daily Telegraph" from Paris says that lately there have been dark references made to the possible out break of a holy war in Morocco, which will spread to the Arabs in Algeria. Persons well informed on of the Arabs in Algeria. Persons well informed on affairs in Algeria consider that the French are indulging in a false security when they think the Arabs are loyal to them.

The dispatch adds that it is learned on high authority that the Marabouts are preaching a holy war in the schools, it is further said that the Sultan of Morocco is pursuing a temporizing policy in the Mellila matter in order to permit an outbreak against Christians. It is urged that France should energetically support Spain to suppress the attempt to start a holy war.

Madrid, Dec. 1.—The United Press correspondent in Mellila has sent this dispatch, via Malaga, under date of November 39:

"A convict belonging to the guerillas cut off the ears of several Moorish prisoners last night. He will be court-martialled and shot. Baja-El-Arbi, at Moorish pacha, who has tried to convince General Campos of the pacific intentions of the tribesmen, no sooner heard of this than he begged General Campos persistently to pardon the offender. General Campos refused, saying the Moors must learn how he enforced the rules for the proper treatment of prisoners. Even should the peace not be broken again, the whole force now present will remain here until Spain's claims upon the Sultan for indemnity shall have been fully satisfied."

DE LESSEPS AND THE LEGION OF HONOR-BRIGANDS ATTACK DI RUDINI-

CARMEN SYLVA. The Council of the Legion of Honor ataParis ha passed a resolution for the expulsion of M. Ferdinand de Lesseps and of M. Elifel from the roster of the order. This decision, however, requires ratification by President Carnot, who has signified that he is opposed to the measure.

age is daily growing in extent and recklessness, and the Roman papers just at hand contain accounts of an attack made by banuitti upon the burg authorities in preventing Russian Hebrews | Marquis di Rudint while on his way to his coun-Marquis di Rudini while on its way to his courtry seat in the neighborhood of the Eternal City. Shots were fired which severely wounded the coachman of the ex-Prenier. But the report of the firearms had the effect of frightening the horses into boilting, thanks to which, the Marquis escaped capture and being held for ransom.

Bayard's Degenerate Relative.-A court-martial sitting at Grenoble, in France, has just sentenced to imprisonment for two years for desertion the Corporal Alphonse du Terrail, a member of the family of the illustrious Chevaller Bayard, and a lineal descendant of the latter's brother.

Carmen Sylva's Recovery.-Queen Elizabeth of Rumania is once more in excellent health, has recovered the use of her limbs, and is able to walk long distances. She has become thinner, and her hair is now quite white. She expresses her intention of shortly returning to Bucharest.

A Boomerang Decree.-It is fortunate in one ense that the French Dupuy Cabinet should have been forced to tender its resignation, since other wise it would have found itself in a rather awkward predicament. Some time ago the Minister of Pubic Works, with the object of increasing the popu larity of the Administration, issued a decree larity of the Administration, issued a decree po-viding for the imposition of fines for every rail-road train which reached its destination behind its schedule time. According to a report just issued it now turns out that the principal offenders in this particular since the issue of the edict are the state railroads, which are under the direction of the Minister of Public Works himself, and that there are over 2,000 charges of unpunctuality against them since the beginning of October last.

Rife Bullets Carry Infection.-Experiments jusmade at Munich have demonstrated the fact that bullets discharged from a rifle in the usual way can be rendered vehicles of infection, carrying microbes and lafecting whatever they strike. A new terror is thus added to warfare, and it is to be heped that bullets purposely infected with germs of cholera, typinus, etc., will be tabooed by civilized nations as instruments of warfare, just in the same manner as explosive bullets.

THE COLD WAVE REACHES THE EAST. Lockport, N. Y., Dec. 1 (Special).-The first gent ine cold weather of the season prevails in Western New-York, after the most pleasant November known to the oldest residents. The thermometer is 20 below freezing point to-night and snow falling. The cold is general along the Lake region and in Western New-York. The Eric Canal is and in Western New-York. The Erie Canal is frozen over at this end. A few belated canalboats are rushing through to reach winter quarters.

Burlington, Iowa, Dec. 1 (Special).—A blizzard and cold wave struck Iowa at an unfortunate time. There is no water for stock and no probability of getting any. With the ground frozen a foot deep much suffering is expected. The thermometer indicated 10 below zero to-day, and reports of suffering among stock are coming in. Joseph Fleet was frozen to death here last night. Teams are crossing the Mississippi River on the ice.

A RELIGIOUS CRANK IN A PRAYER-MEETING.

A religious crank disturbed the prayer-meeting last night at Zion African Methodist Episcopai Church, No. 357 Bleecker-st. The pastor is the Rev. Josiah Caldwell. Soon after the service began a short and sturdy negro entered and joined in the praying. His voice was soon to be heard above all the others, and when the disconcerted church members and their leader ceased the negro continued to shout out crazy exhortations. James continued to shout out crazy exhortations. James Chase, the sexton, tried to make the man stop, but failed. He shouted more loudly than ever. Finally a policeman was called in, who took the man to the Charles-st, police station.

In the station-house he became violent, and imagined Sergeant Tucker's deak was an altar. He three himself before it and prayed fervently. After great difficulty he was prevailed upon to tell that his name was William Edwards.

"I have no home, and am praying for your forgiveness," he whined, as he was carried away to Bellevie Hospital in a straitjacket.

DR. PARKHURST'S LETTER DEARING FRUIT.

Dr. Parkhurst's communication to Captain Michael Doherty, of the Fifth-st, police station, is apparently producing results. Two disorderly houses and four coffee houses were last night added houses and four coffee houses were last high man-to the list of places already raided since the com-munication was received. The disorderly houses were kept by Mrs. Mamie Joy, of No. II First-st. and Mrs. Mary Miller, of No. Is First-st. The girls in each resort were placed under arrest. The coffee restaurants were closed for seiling beer without having a license. Those arrested were Bruno Newbauer, of No. 152 cratic Club; ex-Sheriff James O'Brien, Andrew D. Parker, ex-Assistant District-Attorney; ex-Senator Francis M. Bixby, ex-Alderman Duffy and several others. The situation was talked over, and it was decided to invite other Democrats who were willing to lend a helping hand in the cause of redeeming the city from Tammany rule to take part in the formation of a straight-out Anti-Tammany organization.

The meeting was fixed for last evening. About fifty Democrats assembled at the Holland House and organized by electing J. M. Monks, the well-known dock-builder, chairman, R. James A. Moorehead, who was the independent Democratic candidate for Assembly in the XIth District, secretary, Besides Major McNulty, ex-Sheriff O'Brien and those already mentioned, ex-Senator George F. Langbein, Peter Masterson, ex-Deputy-Sheriff James Fay and Timothy Shea were among the men who took part. Ex-Senators Bixby and Langbein, Mr. Shea and the chairman of the meeting, Mr. Monks, made ringing speeches in denunciation of the methods of Tammany and the way in which the present city government is conducted. Ex-Senator Bixby said that people might feel assured of the nomination of a decent Democratic city and county ticket next year.

It was decided to appoint a general committee of five from each Assembly district, and proceed at once to establish organizations in the several districts of the city. The chairman will prepare the lists, and the general committee will probably meet at the St. Cloud Hotel mext Thursday evening. A committee was appointed to secure a hall for permanent headquarters.

TAKEN FOR A THIEF ON THE NONEYMOON

A NEW-YORKER'S UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 1 (Special).-H. A. Wellman, of New-York City, came here yesterday on his wedding trip, having been married in New-York City on Wednesday to the daughter of John Begardus, of Poughkeepsie.

The Chief of Police of this city received a telegram from Inspector McLaughlin, of the New-York Police Department, requesting him to arrest J. H. Hart, who was a passenger on the nightboat! to Poughkeepsie, and who was wanted in New-York for grand larceny. A description of Hart, was added. Carrying it with him, an officer was added. Carrying it with him, an officer started in search of the man. It was learned that no J. H. Hart had been on the hoat. Then the officer went to the Nelson House and learned that the only guests there who had been passengers on the nightboat were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wellman. It happened that Mr. Wellman answered the description given by Inspector McLaushlin. He was taken to Police Headquarters, where the dispatch was shown him, and he was told that if he could give any proof whatever that he was not the man wanted he would not be deteined. He said that his name was not Hart, and that he lived at No. 118 Charles-st., New-York City. A dispatch was sent to New-York at once, and the police there found that Mr. Wellman did live in Charles-st, and that he had been married the day before and was away on his wedding tour. The bridegroom was greatly annoyed over the unpleasant mistake. The couples went to Highland yesterday and returned laningth to New-York, Mr. Wellman says he will bring suit for false imprisonment.

A BRAVE ELEVATOR BOY.

AT THE RISK OF HIS LIFE HE SAVES SEVERAL WOMEN FROM A FIERY DEATH.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Fire started at 9 o'clock this morning in the Haymarket Theatre Building, Nos. 161 to 169 West Madison-st., the main thoroughfare of the most populous side of Chicago. It proved one of the worst fires which the Fire Department has built to contrad with for many years. has had to contend with for many years, count of the freezing weather, which caused delay in getting all the streams to play on the burning structure. The front part of the building, which is declayed by stores, saloons and the offices of declars, dentists, photographers, real-estate agents and jewellers, was completely ruined. The fire-walk, which separates the theatre proper from the front of the building saved it from destruction. The loss to the theatre will not exceed $5.000. It is cells mated that the loss on the building and contents will amount to $60,000. The total insurance is $122.

will amount to $60,000. The total insurance is $122-$600 on the building and theatre, $75,000 being placed on the former. The flames were discovered by the janitor in the portrait frame room of W. H. Gooding in the rear of the fourth floor.

The elevator boy, at the risk of his life, carried his car several times from the ground floor to the top of the building, and rescued women from the flames, which were eating their way up to the flames, which were eating their way up to the flames, which were eating their way up to the flames, the wife of a dentist on the third floor, and, after carrying her in safety to the bottom of the building, he ascended to bring other women who were employed on the fourth andn floors, after carrying her in safety to the bottom of the building, he ascended to bring other women who were employed on the fourth and ... in floors, principally in the studio of William Morrison, theatrical photographer, on the top floor. The last call made upon him was to bring Mr. Morrison down, but when he had run his car to the fourth floor he found the flames had broken into the elevator shaft and the danger of burning the ropal forced him to descend alone. He had got out of his car only two minutes when the rope was parted by the flames. Mr. Morrison escaped by way of the roof.

The heaviest loser by the fire is Mr. Morrison, who had $1,000 negatives in his studio all destroyed. The Haymarket Theatre was opened September 24, 1887, by Thomas Keene, and the Howard Athenaeum Company was playing there this week. Manager Fair said the company would play in the Standard Theatre to-night if the Haymarket could not be put into condition. It was the only firster class house on the West Side.
